THE MITCHELL-SHERIFF FIGHT.

The Match Declared a Draw After Seven Rounds—Neither Slugger Hurt.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—The match between Sheriff and Mitchell came off to-night. Both were in good form and each was looking confident. Sheriff led, planting his right on Mitchell's neck. Sheriff's stomach then offered attractions for Mitchell, who, not to be denied, visited that part of his opponent's anatomy, and Sheriff looked like a bellows to mend. He was sadly winded. Mitchell kept at work, and the Prussian, notwithstanding Mitchell's visitation, was quick in response. A hot battle was now being waged, Mitchell doing heavy work with his left, and Sheriff planting some heavy right-handers on Mitchell's heart. Mitchell drew blood the second time from Sheriff's nose, as time was called.

FOURTH ROUND.

There was little appearance of fatigue in either of the men as they stood up for the fourth time. Mitchell led off with a blow at Sheriff's head, which was neatly stopped, and followed once again with a heavy left-hander on the Prussian's stomach just above the belt. Then followed some quick counters, but without damage, and the round closed by Mitchell delivering a terrific blow in Sheriff's ribs.

SIGNS OF WEAKENING.

Fifth round—No time was lost in beginning work, although both men showed signs of tiring. They soon came together, and the heads of both suffered for some seconds. Sheriff got in a right hander on Mitchell's throat, the latter countering with his left on the stomach, and right on the head. This was the best fought round, and the only one in which the men showed fight.

Sixth round—The men came up splendidly, and lost no time in sparring. Mitchell delivered a left-hander on Sheriff's stomach, while the latter planted a hard one on Mitchell's head. A heavy left-hander from Mitchell almost knocked Sheriff down. He rallied quickly, however, and put in some telling blows. The fight was very even until it wound up with Mitchell planting his left on Sheriff's nose, and his right on his stomach. Sheriff did some hard hitting, while Mitchell often fell short. The younger man, however, looked fresh when time was called.

THE LAST ROUND.

Seventh round—There was some delay in getting the men together for this round, as the referee agreement provided that but six rounds should be fought. The spectators set up a loud cry for the fight to continue, which had the effect of bringing the men together. They quickly began, each receiving blows in the face. Mitchell got in a left-hander on Sheriff's stomach, which the latter returned with a nasty undercut on the chin. Mitchell getting in a similar blow and a left hander on the stomach. Both sparred carefully for a time, and then Mitchell landed a heavy one on Sheriff's nose. The latter did some heavy work on Mitchell's head, with both hands, until one of Mitchell's stomach blows sent his wind short. The round finished with some sharp hitting on both sides.

A DISAPPOINTED CROWD.

The fight occupied about thirty minutes. When the crowd of onlookers, who had paid $10 each to see the fight, saw both men preparing to leave the ring they set up a tremendous yell, and demanded that they should fight it on. The referee, however, decided the fight over, and that the result was a draw. There were renewed yells, and the fighters evinced a disposition to go on, but the referee decided against them. Neither man appeared much punished. Mitchell walked to his carriage as lightly as he left it before the fight. A slight swelling of the face was the only indication of the fight about the person of the Prussian. The result was very unsatisfactory to all concerned, and attempts were made to arrange another match, to be fought in Mexico, for $2500 a side. A large amount of money was put up by the friends of both men, but the referee declared bets off.

CRIMINAL CALENDAR.

KANSAS DESPERADOES IN THE TOILS.

DODGE CITY, Kan., Oct. 2.—Those in charge of matters seem to think that Dean, arrested for train robbery at Coolidge, is the man who shot Hilton and Farel, and the lines seem to be drawing closely around him as leader of the gang. He tells a very explicit and apparently straight story, but the officers have discovered that it fails to hang together in many important particulars. The matter will fully develop in a day or two, and it is more than likely that one of the men now held will give the whole thing away. There is a determination among those representing the railroad company and the state to bring the scoundrels to justice, at all hazards. A deputy sheriff is now at Coolidge, and also Jack Bridges, city marshal, and deputy sheriff White. They will say nothing, but it is thought by many that they have some clue, and are forging the chains more closely about Dean.

HOMICIDE IN NEBRASKA.

OMAHA, Oct. 2.—This evening at 9 o'clock W. H. Armstrong, an old resident of York county, was fatally shot by John and Walter Gilmore, near the fair grounds. Walter Gilmore, two weeks ago, married his daughter against her father's wishes, and he swore vengeance. One week afterward Armstrong met his son-in-law and shot at him twice without effect. Walter had been arrested and to-day Armstrong and his two sons were brought into town and were released, upon giving bonds for their appearance next Thursday.

MAKING CIGARS IN A TENEMENT.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—David A. Paul, 325 East Eighth street, was arrested to-day charged with violating the new law in manufacturing cigars in a tenement. He was held in bail for trial. This was the first case under the law which went into effect to-day, and will be carried to a higher court and a test case made of it.

THE STOCK MARKET.

Western Union Takes an Upward Tendency, Owing to a Favorable Decision.

WALL STREET, 11 A. M.—Stocks opened firm. In the first half hour Western Union developed marked strength, and advanced to 81¾. The rise is due to a decision rendered in favor of the company by the court of appeals. An attorney for the company says the decision means that the adverse general term decision is reversed, and the decision by Judge Truax, in the company's favor, is affirmed. This establishes the legality of $15,526,590 of stock, and removes all obstacles in the way of the payment of dividends. The advance in the general list ranged from ¼ to ¾.

WALL STREET, 11:10 A. M.—The annual meeting of the Louisville and Nashville Company takes place at Louisville to-morrow. Gould and Sage will enter the directory. No change will be made in the management. The annual statement will show a gross earning last year of $13,314,874, against $11,087,735; expenses $8,700,690, against $7,429,371; net earnings $4,189,126, against $4,558,374; net earnings per mile, $2534, against $2813. The operating expenses per mile show only a slight increase over the previous year.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—Governments strong. This is another dull day in stock circles. At the opening the market was firm and higher, with a general advance in prices of ¼ to 1½ per cent., the latter Western Union, on the favorable decision of the court of appeals, legalizing $15,526,590 of stock issued at the time of the consolidation of the American Union and Atlantic and Pacific Telegraph Companies with the Western Union in 1881. After 11 A. M. the market was quiet.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—The Evening Post says: As the bears were evidently afraid to sell any of the prominent stocks which are known to be supported, a side issue was made by a few parties in Terre Haute and Cincinnati, Columbus, Cleveland and Indianapolis, the first of which was sold down 4½ points, and the latter 6¾. Whether there is any reason in the financial affairs of the road for the decline or not it is believed the depression of to-day is artificial. The general situation of railroad affairs is encouraging. The earnings are good, and there is no immediate prospect of a serious complication in regard to rates.

FOREIGN MISSIONS.

Annual Meeting of the American Board of Commissioners.

DETROIT, Oct. 2.—The seventy-fourth annual meeting of the American board of commissioners for foreign missions, was called to order to-day by the venerable president, Mark Hopkins of Williams' college. The exercises were opened by singing, and prayer by Dr. E. B. Webb of Boston. Rev. Chas. Terry Collins of Cleveland was elected assistant recording secretary.

After the appointment of committees on nominations, arrangement, and business, Rev E K Alden of Boston, home secretary of the board, read the annual report of that department, giving a general survey of the work of collecting funds, administration, etc., and also embodying a report of the presidential committee, touching the work of their agent sent to investigate affairs in connection with missions in Turkey.

This was followed by a report from the foreign secretary of the board, Rev. Dr. N. G. Clark, giving a comprehensive survey of the work done during the year in the various fields occupied by this veteran missionary organization in foreign lands. The summary of the result is highly encouraging.

The treasurer of the board, Langdon Ward of Boston, presented his annual report, showing: Receipts during the year, $690,906; expended, in carrying on direct work, $567,255; cost of agencies, $[illegible]407; cost of publications, $3323; cost of administration, $2069; leaving a balance in the treasury at the close of the year of $1222. The appraised value of the sureties pertaining to the [illegible] funds still remaining on hand is $[illegible],408; the general permanent fund amounts to $763,017; permanent fund for support of officers, $50,503. Each of the last two funds received a small addition during the past year.

The annual sermon before the board was preached this evening, in the presence of a large audience, by Prof. Wm. Barber, D. D., of Yale college.

There are some 200 attendant upon the meeting of the board in the city. Sessions continue until Friday.

Last Requests Now in Order

Philadelphia Press.

Without pausing to argue this statement, we feel in duty bound to advise the democracy that if it has any last requests to make it should prepare to make them now.

The fight between Mr. Mitchell, at El Paso, and Mr. Slade, at New Orleans, reminds us of the trade between the United States and foreign countries under the operation of a prohibitive tariff. It is a barren ideality.—Philadelphia Record (Ind).

Lieutenant Greely Reported Killed by the Esquimaux.

KING ALFONZO AND HIS RECENT INSULT.

Comments of the European Press upon the Difficulty—The Yellow Fever in Mexico—News Notes.

ENGLAND.

ANOTHER RUMOR OF GREELY'S DEATH.

LONDON, Oct. 2.—The Times gives a report from the Upernavik correspondent of a Copenhagen journal, that Lieutenant Greely of the American Arctic expedition was murdered by a mutinous crew. The report comes from Hans Hendrick, an Esquimau with Dr. Natherst. Hendrick states that he got the news from an Esquimau who had seen the Greely party. The Times considers the report improbable, as Dr. Natherst has never mentioned it. Dr. Natherst was ecologist of the Nordenskjold expedition. Professor Nordenskjold telegraphed to the Associated press from Scrotshster, under date of September 22, that an Esquimau named Dans Christian, who was interpreter with Dr. Natherst, reported having met a party of esquimaux at Godhaven who had come from Wolstenholm. This party stated that they had been informed by other natives that the commander of an American expedition and another member of the party were dead. The report printed in the London Times may have been based on the same story.

ALFONSO'S INSULT.

Great Excitement Prevailing in Spain and France—An Enthusiastic Reception.

MADRID, Oct. 2.—The queen and family returned from Lagrainja and were given an ovation by the populace. The streets from the depot to the palace were thronged with carriages and pedestrians, and an enormous crowd filled the depot, including officers of the garrison. The queen and princess were greatly cheered. Shouts were raised of "Long live the king and queen." Occasional cries hostile to France were heard. The queen appeared twice on the balcony of the palace, in response to plaudits of the multitude. A short time afterwards groups of excited youths went in the direction of the French embassy, crying, "Long live the king! Down with the French!" but dispersed on seeing the embassy protected by a strong body of police. A number of people made friendly demonstrations in front of the German legation. Placards are posted in various parts of the city, violently attacking France. A meeting of the principal French residents of Madrid was held at which the insults to the king were strongly condemned and cordial sympathy with Spain expressed.

ALFONSO AND GREVY.

PARIS, Oct. 2.—Alfonso, in declining the invitation of Grevy to prolong his stay in Paris, remarks that Grevy's apology for his treatment by the people might make him forget the bitterness of his entry, but Spain would long remember the hisses of the populace, who would not see that behind the king it was a nation they were hissing. As the train bearing Alfonso to the frontier left the station in Paris, his majesty requested General Pittie, secretary of President Grevy, to inform the president that he left him with a deep sense of his courtesy.

GREVY MUCH AFFECTED.

LONDON, Oct. 2.—A dispatch from Paris says President Grevy is much affected by the treatment received by King Alfonso in Paris, and it is said he even intimated at one time that he intended resigning the presidency. It is stated that a violent feud which exists between Wilson, son-in-law of President Grevy, and members of the chamber of deputies and Prime Minister Ferry, has caused dissension between the president and Ferry, in relation to King Alfonso's visit.

Many persons of note have gone to the frontier to greet King Alfonso, and escort him to the capital. Great preparations are being made in Madrid by the people to welcome the king upon his arrival.

THE KING IN SPAIN.

IRUN, Oct. 2.—The train containing King Alfonso and suite arrived here this morning. The king was received with unbounded enthusiasm by the crowd in waiting. In parting at the frontier with his French escort the king charged an aid-de-camp of President Grevy to convey his thanks to the president for the cordial welcome he gave him in Paris.

AN ENTHUSIASTIC RECEPTION.

MADRID, Oct. 2.—Alfonso arrived this afternoon. An enormous crowd completely blocked the streets between the railway station and the royal palace. Flags were displayed in every part of the city and many shops were closed. The queen went to meet the king, whom the cabinet ministers, civil and military officers, and many deputies and senators welcomed at the station. On arrival of the train loud cheers were raised, lasting several minutes. Their majesties proceeded to the palace in a carriage, escorted. They were surrounded and followed by a great mass of people. The plaudits continued along the whole route. Ladies in carriages and on balconies were waving handkerchiefs. The enthusiasm was greatest in the square, before the palace, where thousands had assembled, all [illegible] stopping the progress of the royal carriage. The king appeared on the balcony of the palace several times, and afterward held a popular reception. To-night a grand serenade was given before the palace by all the bands of the garrison. Many houses throughout the city are illuminated.

OPINIONS OF THE NEWSPAPERS.

BERLIN, Oct. 2.—All the newspapers express great indignation at the insults offered Alfonso in Paris.

A Madrid paper says the demonstration against Alfonso will remain a lasting stain to France. If she does not give full satisfaction, it will show that the government of France has merely a nominal existence, and that a few seditious persons are more powerful than all the authorities.

Republican papers urge the Spanish people to be calm and prudent, in order to avoid playing into the hands of Bismarck.

THE INSULTS AIMED AT GERMANY.

BERLIN, Oct. 2.—Newspapers here regard the insults heaped upon Alfonso in Paris as the moral defeat of France. No power, they say, would now wish for an alliance with her. Insults to the Spanish king were, in their opinion, more directly aimed against Germany, who considers them a sign of weakness.

NO TREATY ENTERED INTO.

LONDON, Oct. 2.—The Times' Paris correspondent, who was on the train with Alfonso, reports that in an interview with the Spanish minister of foreign affairs he was authorized to deny the report that a treaty had been entered into by Spain and Germany.

A MONTREAL SCANDAL.

Miss Lent, a Society Young Lady, Sues for Defamation of Character.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—A Montreal dispatch to the Brooklyn Eagle says: "The name of the party who has sued the proprietors of the Windsor hotel for $50,000 damages for defamation of character and summary removal from the hotel, is a Miss Florence Lent. She is a daughter of Phœnix Lent, a brick contractor of Brooklyn. She is an only daughter, and has three brothers, one, Louis Lent, a grain merchant in New York, who, it is understood, is assisting her in prosecuting the hotel proprietor. A number of well known gentlemen friends of the young lady maintain that she has been treated in a most outrageous manner, and are confident that she will receive the damages asked. On the other hand the proprietors of the Windsor hotel say they acted with the utmost caution and discretion in the matter, and do not fear the result. The trial, of course, promises startling developments. Miss Lent has been admitted considerably to fashionable society in Montreal, and the announcement of alleged improprieties caused a decided sensation. Miss Lent says she is engaged to a gentleman in Chicago.

LUNDBORG'S RHENISH COLOGNE.

THE NORTHERN PACIFIC.

What the Bears Have Asserted in Their Efforts to Break the Stock.

Philadelphia Special (Sept. 26) to Chicago Tribune.

The great attack on the Northern Pacific has lasted a week and resulted in a fearful depreciation of all the properties which are known in Wall street as "Villard's." The exact state of affairs has been a mystery to the street. The largest private investors in the stock reside in this city. These large stockholders have given President Villard full rein for two years or more. The capitalists who are interested in Northern Pacific complain that his management of the road has been needlessly extravagant, and they make four points against him.

"First—He has wasted money in rushing the road to completion so rapidly. Getting out of the reach of congressional legislation, in regard to land grants, might have been a good thing, but while he was doing it Mr. Villard got into the way of a congressional investigation, and spent a great deal of money. Second—The construction of the branches, at a high cost of rental to the Northern Pacific, along the main line and on the Pacific coast. Third—Projecting terminal facilities at Portland, which, it is said, will cost $4,000,000, if Mr. Villard's ideas are carried out. Fourth—The want of judgment in the selection of inferior subordinates. The road needs only the ablest of railroad managers at both ends of the line."

The policy which has been followed by Mr. Villard has created a floating debt of $10,000,000 to $1[illegible],000,000. It is held that prudent management would have averted any such weight on the company. There has been some consultation among the principal stockholders who control the board of directors, and a plan of action has virtually been agreed on. If Mr. Villard will pledge himself to thorough reform in the matter of spending money, if he can satisfy his backers that in the future the road will be run in the interest of the stockholders and in accordance with those rules of economy which govern successful corporate enterprises, and if he will allow the board of directors to know all the details of expenditure, he doubtless will be re-elected president. If not, he will not be chosen the head of the road. An interesting question now is how Mr. Villard will meet the important and vital issue which threatens to end his career. Heretofore his will and word have been law. In the future there must be a divided responsibility with the real owners of the road, no matter who is elected president. There will be no trouble about providing for the deficiency in money. There is full confidence in the earning capacity of the road. The board of directors will do one of two things: Issue a second mortgage or a debenture loan for $15,000,000, or perhaps less, to run for twenty years, payable any time after ten years. The Oregon Transcontinental will have nothing to do with the loan. If the floating debt is funded the entire bonded indebtedness of the road will be less than $35,000 per mile.

The St. Paul Pioneer-Press replies to the above in this conclusive style: The extravagance charged on the rapid completion of the road was fully foretold by Mr. Villard when he pledged himself to this policy two years ago. As to the terminal facilities for which, it is said, so much has been spent, it would be an asinine course, indeed, to build a magnificent transcontinental road and leave it without room enough to turn around in at the terminal. It will be found that the Northern Pacific has secured no one advantage which has been so much the fruit of one man's good judgment as the terminal properties bought by Mr. Villard. The construction of branches, another point of complaint, may have some force when it is shown that these roads have not paid well on their leases. As to inferior employes selected by Mr. Villard, the animus of this charge is its own refutation.

THE PROTECTION SYSTEM.

Some of Its Fallacies Pointed Out by David A. Wells.

CHICAGO, Sept. 25.—The Hon. David A. Wells is in the city. In an interview to-day he said:

My opinion is that we have reached the point where the policy of protection has got to fail from necessity, for our products in every department of manufactures are in excess of the requirements of our domestic market, and the present tariff prevents any relief by preventing exports. One-third of the mills manufacturing woolen fabrics are idle. Nearly one-half of the furnaces and rolling mills are out of blast. Not a new cotton factory is being constructed in New England. Moreover, the manufacturers of cotton and woolen stuffs, in default of a way to dispose of the surplus products, have been compelled to sacrifice them during the last three months at prices ranging from 10 to 15 per cent. below the cost of production. So long as this state of things lasts the existing depression of industries is going to last and with 600,000 new laborers coming into the country every year a general reduction of wages, with a concomitance of strikes and social disturbances, is inevitable. I look for continued failures and hard times during the coming winter, and they will be harder during the presidential election of next year than they are now. Circumstances are going to force the condition of affairs upon the attention of both parties whether they desire it or not.

Mr. Wells' attention being drawn to the fact that the wool growers of the country were in session here to-day to protest against the reduction of the tariff on wool, and to demand its restoration, he said:

These men are very short sighted. They don't know their own interests. No country can produce all the kinds of wool made any more than it can all the different kinds of fruit. There can be no importation of our peculiar American staples even under free trade, because they are the best of their kind, and they are grown on the lowest priced lands in the world. One-third of the woolen mills are idle to-day. We can hardly export a yard of any of the products of our woolen mills. There is where the wool grower is affected. The production of our domestic wools increases, and in the absence of any extended demand by our manufacturers the price of domestic fleeces is steadily lowered. But in spite of the existing high rates on the importation of woolens, we are annually importing $28,000,000 to $30,000,000 worth of woolen products, nearly all of which might be made here, in conjunction with a large additional consumption of American wool, if the manufacturers were allowed to have the necessary per cent. of foreign wools to mix with the domestic article. There is not a government in the world that has adopted the protective tariff policy but what has recognized the fact, and admitted the wool of other countries free of duty.

Mr. Wells said, in conclusion, that the tariff question was surely the coming issue. If the democratic party are alive to the necessity of the hour they should not hesitate to make it. In a very few years New England sentiment would be solidly arrayed against protection. This seems now well nigh incredible, but it was true.

Yesterday morning Mrs. Dr. T. W. Shelton and daughter went to Portland to remain until after the Mechanics' fair.

Officer Atterbury has for some time felt satisfied that there was an opium den in full blast somewhere in this city, but until yesterday morning has been unable to get hold of facts enough to warrant an arrest. But yesterday morning the actions of a woman whom he afterwards found to be a Miss [illegible] Rogers, of Roseburg, as she got off the train, excited the suspicions of the ever watchful city marshal. He saw her start through town in company with a young man who lives here, and saw them go around to the rear of a Chinese wash house on Main street. In about ten minutes he entered the front door of the house and marched right through into the smoking room, the door of which happened to be unlocked. He found them both smoking and placed them under arrest, together with the proprietor of the den. They offered bribes and plead earnestly that publicity should not be given to their deeds, but all in vain. They were taken before Recorder Washburn, and the two former were fined $10 apiece and costs, and the latter $50.

Petition For Their Old Battle Flags.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—Application has been made to the war department by the survivors of a confederate brigade residing at Norfolk for permission to use their old battle flags, now in possession of that department, on the occasion of a reunion to take place in a few weeks. There are several hundred confederate battle flags stored in the war department. Adjutant General Drum said to-day that the application would have to be rejected, as neither the secretary of war nor the president can give or lend those flags without the sanction of congress.

Newspaper Decision.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—Inquiries from many persons whether they could be compelled to pay for newspapers sent to their address without authority, have called forth the following ruling from the postoffice department: The liability of a party to pay for a newspaper must be determined by rules applicable to other contracts. When a publisher, without request from a party, either expressed or implied, sends a paper, the fact that the party addressed takes the paper from the postoffice does, of itself, create an implied agreement.

The Corean Embassy.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—The Corean embassy paid an official visit to the state, war and navy departments to-day, and were received by the secretaries of all the departments. The head of the embassy took occasion to thank Admiral Shufeldt, on behalf of the Corean government, for his good offices in bringing about close relations between the United States and Corea. Admiral Shufeldt said he expected to make another visit to Corea next year.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—General George W. Getty, in command of artillery at Fortress Monroe, was to-day placed on the retired-list. He will be succeeded by Colonel John C. Tidball, of General Sherman's staff.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST.

Washington Territory.

The supreme court adjourned until the second Friday in December.

The wrecking schooner Whitelaw is again at work on the sunken steamer Mississippi.

Some miscreant entered the Congregational church at Seattle Friday evening and stole the three months' contributions of the Sunday school scholars, amounting to about $40, which were contained in a number of earthenware jugs.

Albert Baker, who resides on his farm about three miles from Ilwaco, had an encounter with a bear last Saturday, in which he came near losing his life. He shot the bear five times Friday evening, about dark, but not succeeding in killing him, the animal hid in the brush. Next morning Mr. Baker, with the aid of his dog, tracked the bear and shot him about the jaw. Bruin then showed fight, knocking Mr. Baker down and scratching him up considerably. Amos Embree went to the rescue, and with his rifle dispatched the infuriated animal.

Oysterville Journal: About two miles west of Woodard's landing, there is quite a large body of cleared land, probably several thousand acres. This land is quite destitute of timber, in fact, it might be called a fern prairie, the timber having been completely burned off, leaving acres that one could readily plow. It is of a rolling surface, and is nearly all confined to the hills between the Willapah river and South Fork, and is generally considered excellent land. We learn that one section (32, township 14) is vacant government land, the remainder belonging to the railroad. To persons in search of good, available land, we would recommend them to look at this section. The high lands in this county are free from gravel and stone, and in the most cases the soil on the summit of these hills is of excellent quality, producing a fine growth of grass. As a stock range it cannot be beaten. Sheep will do well the year round, even from the natural growth of grass.

Seattle Post Intelligencer: From a gentleman just in from the front of railroad operations this afternoon, we learn the following facts: Trains are now running from Puyallup to Black river bridge, and yesterday Chief Engineer Thielson and Mr. Ward came over the road to the junction. The road is nearly graded from the junction to Black river; 650 men are employed on the work between the junction and Seattle; 450 men between Black river and Stuck river, and up the Cedar above Renton, 1050 more, making in all 2100 men. A fine gravel bed has been discovered near Titusville and a side track built to connect with it. The gravel is first-class and will be valuable for ballasting. Many railroad men were in town last evening, and all agree in saying that work is being pushed with unexampled energy. From all appearances and assurances received there is little doubt that trains from Puyallup and Portland will be running into Seattle on a standard guage track on or before November 1st, the time set for the completion of this extension.

Yakima Signal: A week or so ago Edward F. Lee, an old gentleman residing near town, went on a prospecting tour of the headwaters of the Tietan, in company with Mr. James Greeve. While faring in the Tietan basin the old gentleman was seized with paralysis, which affected all parts of his body and rendered him absolutely helpless. The Tietan basin is a large country walled in on all sides by almost perpendicular mountains many hundred feet in height, which makes ingress and egress exceedingly difficult even for men in good health. When Greeve realized that his old companion was in such a helpless condition, and so far from the abode of any human being, and with a prospect of an early snow fall, his feelings may well be imagined. He is a small man, but a powerful one physically, and so managed to lift the old gentleman on a pack-horse and was coming to the lower end of the basin when he chanced to meet Moses Splawn, who was also out prospecting in that region. Rigging up a stretcher between two horses the old gentleman was carried to the foot of the mountain, where he was left in charge of one of the party while the other came to town for more assistance.

Eastern Oregon.

A militia company has been organized at Baker City.

On Friday last, says the Baker City Tribune, a Chinese cook for Mr. Jessup and family, railroad contractor, at work near Weatherby, made himself too familiar with a 7 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jessup. The screams of the child instantly attracted the attention of the mother and also that of the men at work near by. The Chinaman fled to the brush, which the men surrounded and set on fire. Rather than be burned to death the heathen jumped from his place of concealment and started to run, but was caught by the men; a rope placed around his neck, and instantly that Chinaman was "doing" the dance of death in mid air. The whole occurrence did not consume over twenty minutes between the screaming of the child and the sending of the Celestial into eternity. The deputy sheriff was sent for after the Chinaman was strung up, but he thought it best to let well enough alone; accordingly a hole was dug at the roots of the tree and the dead Chinaman was dumped therein like a dog. The action of the citizens is sanctioned by all conversant with the facts.

EAST PORTLAND COUNCIL.

The Fifth-street Bridge Accepted—Wash. Allen's Building Referred to the Street Committee—The Mayor Tenders His Resignation—Important Reports—Etc.

The common council of East Portland met in regular session Monday evening, Mayor Myers in the chair and all the members present except Kindorf.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

PETITIONS, REMONSTRANCES, ETC.

From J. B. Garrison, W. T. B. Nicholson and L. Bloom (representing 1000 feet, remonstrating against the proposed improvement of I. street, from Sixteenth street to the city limits. On motion of Crane referred to the committee on streets.

From W. S. Ladd, Wm. M. Ladd, Wm. Dalton and Mrs. Mary Rider (representing 6[illegible] feet) remonstrating against the proposed improvement of L street, from Water to Twelfth. On motion of Crane laid on the table.

From W. Tugmaler, asking that the city share the expense of making the fill at the intersection of Ninth and L streets. On motion of Sprague referred to committee on streets.

From Henry Pape, tendering his resignation as chief engineer of the fire department, to take effect September 18. On motion of Sprague, accepted.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

From Mayo and Sprague, of the committee on streets, with certificate of city surveyor attached, approving the elevated roadway on Fifth street, between J and L streets. On motion of Sprague, adopted.

From the committee on streets, with the certificates of the city surveyor and street commissioner attached, approving work done on O and Water streets by C. L. Spore, on O street by Koenan & Franey, on G street by James Franey and on Jefferson street by property owners. Adopted and warrants ordered drawn for the several amounts.

From the committee on streets reporting they had awarded contracts for the improvement of Sixth street, from C to J, as follows: To W. F. Dill for the grading, and to J. Johnson for sidewalks and crosswalks. Adopted.

From the committee on fire and water, recommending they be authorized to receive bids and let contracts for placing twenty gas lamp posts at such points as the committee may direct, also for placing gas fixtures in the council chamber. Adopted.

From the committee on health and police, reporting a set of rules for the government of the police force, being similar to those adopted by other cities. On motion of Mayo, adopted.

From the committee on judiciary, recommending the repayment of $1150, the amount paid by McGuire & Beard for a tax title to property assessed to "Cohn & Goldsmith," and which could not be found. Adopted.

REPORTS BY OFFICERS.

From the city marshal, recommending that a contract be made with H. C. Petty for painting the roof of the city hall with Petty's fire-proof paint. On motion of Mayo, the marshal was authorized to make such contract.

From the street commissioner, reporting he had finished the work of draining the water out of Asylum slough; that he had taken out the culvert on K street and lowered the ditch six feet, making a fall of eight feet between Second and Water streets. The cost of said work he states to be $ 58, but having saved about 6000 feet of good timber from the culvert, which can be used in the repair of streets, the expense will be reduced to much lower figures. Also, recommending that a ditch be made between K and L streets in order to drain off the water between L and U streets. On motion of Sprague, adopted.

From the city marshal, reporting that W. F. Allen was causing to be erected a wooden building within the fire limits, situated in block [illegible], Brush's square, contrary to ordinance No. 217, and that said W. F. Allen had not been prosecuted as said ordinance provides, from the fact that he claimed to hold a permit from the chief engineer of the fire department, but this, in the opinion of the marshal, was erroneous. Also asking instructions for further action.

Mayo moved that the report be referred to the committee on fire and water.

Crane moved that the marshal be instructed to carry out the provisions of the ordinance, and read the sections governing the matter, by which it appeared the erection of building of the kind in question was strictly prohibited in the fire limits.

A discussion ensued, during which Wash. Allen, who was in the audience, interrupted, stating that he had got what he thought was the proper authority for his action, and all he wanted was "a fair shake." He proceeded to reflect against those who opposed the matter, when Crane rose to a point of order, as Mr. Allen had not been invited to speak. The mayor, however, simply admonished him not to be personal in his remarks and allowed him to continue. This he did in much the same strain, when Crane again arose and insisted on his point of order, and Mr. Allen subsided.

The motion to refer to the committee on fire and water was then put and lost, Mayo and Sprague voting for, and Crane, Laing and Faith against.

Sprague then moved to refer to the committee on streets, which carried.

CARD OF THANKS.

PORTLAND Oct. 2 1883.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

The Ladies' Relief Society gratefully acknowledge the following subscriptions toward the building of the new Home: From A. L. Maxwell, Esq., J. W. Cook, Esq., Rev T. L. Eliot, $800.

Also, liberal supplies of provisions remaining from the Villard party, for use at the Home, from H. D. Sanborn, Esq. And a very generous offer from Woodward & Magoon to furnish a carriage gratuitously to the Ladies' Relief Society whenever needed.

MRS. AMORY HOLBROOK, President.

CHARGED WITH KIDNAPING.—For some time divorce proceedings have been pending between Houghton Avey and his wife, Isabella, the latter being plaintiff, and Judge Stott made an order giving the woman the custody of their child, a boy aged 21 months. The order was afterward modified to allow the father to see the child on Wednesday and Sunday afternoons, between 2 and 6 o'clock. Avey is alleged to have threatened to run away to Canada with the child and, after visiting it at the mother's house in East Portland on last Sunday, he took it away with him. The mother swore out a warrant charging Avey with kidnapping, and he was arrested, the child being found in his possession. He denies that he intended to keep the child with him. The mother now has possession of the infant again, and the merits of the case will be heard in the police court this afternoon.

KICKED BY A HORSE.—Philip Geogan, driver of Eli Morrill's delivery wagon, was kicked by his horse the other day and suffered a compound fracture of the right leg between the knee and the ankle. The fracture is a very bad one and may result in more serious complications. At present Dr. Harty Lane, who is attending the patient, expects, with good care, to restore the leg to its former usefulness.

Warning.—How many people ruin their stomachs by swallowing cold drinks on a hot summer day, when they could avoid all danger by adding ten drops of Angostura Bitters, besides imparting a delicious flavor to their summer beverages.

Referring to the advertisement of the Portland Water Company in THE OREGONIAN and STANDARD, giving result of the analyses made by Chemist J. C. Hill, M. D., of the Willamette river water and the water of Brothens' springs, with which it is proposed by the Crystal Springs Water Company to supply the city of Portland, East Portland and Albina, it might be well for the interested public to know that the analysis was made of the Willamette river water "at the time of the height of the summer rise." (See printed report of the Committee of Councilmen and Citizens to Common Council, Sept. 14, 1872, page nine, last two lines.) And the committee very properly and truthfully add: "It is a question whether later in the season it would analyze so well." Every resident of Portland well knows that the snow-water which fills the Willamette at the season referred to, and the water after the rise, are entirely different. Also, eleven years ago the present sewerage of Portland and the numerous contaminating influences along the shores of the Willamette, especially such as were referred to in a late issue of the News, did not then exist. So the good citizens of Portland will not be deceived into the belief that they are now getting even as pure water as they did eleven years ago.

The Daily Oregonian.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, OCT. 3, 1883.

WORTH CONSIDERATION.

The constitution of Oregon, article 2, section 7, says: "Every person shall be disqualified from holding office during the term for which he may have been elected, who shall have given or offered a bribe, threat or reward to procure his election."

Dr. Chapman when he engaged to appoint certain persons to office in consideration of their support and the payment of money to himself, undoubtedly offered a reward to procure his election.

The civil code of Oregon, section 354, provides that an action at law may be maintained in the name of the state, upon information of the prosecuting attorney, or upon the relation of a private party, "when any public officer has done an act which, by the provisions of law, makes a forfeiture of his office."

Have we not here the conditions on which a proceeding against the faithless and corrupt mayor of the city of Portland may be based? Did he not offer rewards to procure his election, thereby doing an act which makes a forfeiture of his office? The case seems to be a very plain one, and the remedy is as plainly indicated.

In the fifth volume of the Oregon reports there is a case in which there is some discussion of what will constitute an offer of reward. Between that case and the present one there is only a general resemblance; but the line of reasoning employed by the court takes in the general principle applicable to all cases of this kind. Judge Bonham, quoting from and approving a decision of the supreme court of Wisconsin, said: "When our elections to fill public offices cease to express the free, intelligent and unbiased judgment and choice of the electors, when they shall be controlled or materially influenced by offers made by the candidates, * * * a most vital condition of free government will be disregarded. * * * The courts have steadily held that popular elections must be kept free from any taint of corruption and from all improper or unlawful influences whatever."

The offer of reward in this case was plainly that if certain persons would bring about the conditions which would make J. A. Chapman mayor, he would appoint them to certain lucrative offices; and the sequel shows that after they had performed their share of the contract, he attempted to fulfill his part of it. After he became mayor he recognized the corrupt bargain through which he was made mayor, and endeavored to confer the rewards as he had promised. It is worthy of serious consideration whether the laws of the state do not meet this case. Suppose the prosecuting attorney looks into it, with a view of bringing an action at law for forfeiture of the office, as the statute provides?

THE LIQUOR QUESTION IN WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

Several towns and cities in Washington territory have been contending during some time past with various phases of the liquor question. The successful effort in Portland to increase the license fee has had its effect in Washington as well as throughout Oregon. Besides, there was developed at many places in the territory a purpose to secure more effectual enforcement of the Sunday law against the saloons. In Olympia the saloons are at least ostensibly closed on Sundays, and in Walla Walla a series of vigorous prosecutions has been urged against violators of the law. Most of the saloons in Walla Walla have been forced to close their doors on Sundays, and the few that refuse are regularly fined $25 each every Monday morning.

Discussion of high license has had much effect on the public mind throughout the territory, and it is pretty certain that the legislature now in session at Olympia will respond to the call of the people and enact a law fixing the minimum license fee at a higher rate than that hitherto required. It ought to do so. The highest rate now required in any town or city is, we believe, $300, and in most places it is much lower. The consequence is that all the active and growing towns of the territory are cursed with a remarkable excess of saloons. They multiply faster than any legitimate business, and are a cause everywhere of disorder and crime.

It cannot be doubted that the legislature of Oregon, at its next session, will consider this subject and take measures to check the rapid growth of this great evil. The legislature of Washington now has opportunity to take the matter in hand. If prohibition be deemed impracticable, as it probably will be, then a general law, making the minimum fee at least $600 a year, would conduce very much to the limitation of a growing evil. The law-abiding classes of a city cannot always enforce high license by local ordinance. Free whisky rings, like that which existed in Portland (though the occupation of our free whisky ring is now happily gone) may concentrate their power and by great corruption funds and lavish use of vile beverages defeat the decent classes, or at least give them a hard fight; but a general law will make these efforts in the towns and cities impossible, and relieve citizens of the trouble of being always on guard. We hope that Washington territory will enact a high license law, and believe that Oregon will follow the example.

WORK FOR THE COMMON COUNCIL.

The city council meets this evening, and a very important meeting it ought to be. It is said that Councilman Gerdes favors an investigation of the mayor, Lappeus and the dredger; and that this investigation be made by the committees on ways and means, health and police and the special committee on the dredger.

These committees consist respectively of Messrs. Sears, Gerdes and Andrus; Messrs. Andrus, Sears and Gerdes; and Messrs. Gerdes, Sears and Andrus! A very good committee it is too. Let them take these things in hand and by all means let us have the minority report of Mr. Sears on every point, for he is scarcely likely to agree with the others on any.

There is other work before the council. The streets are most shamefully neglected. The council has repealed the old ordinance compelling citizens to clean the streets, and passed another for cleaning them out of the general fund. But as yet no advertisements for bids have appeared, and we are told that the committee on streets show no disposition to take the matter in hand.

How is this, gentlemen? The city is paying more than $100 a month for work in the City park. What is the work? Who is directing it? Is it being done for the benefit of Councilman Scoggin's Washington street Sunday excursion cars? Is the park being improved, or is it being indiscriminately butchered under ignorant direction?

Our council meets once in two weeks. The time is almost exclusively occupied in passing accounts or ordinances for new expenditures. Nothing is discussed in the council. Everything is referred to committees shrewdly organized to overslaugh intelligence and honesty, and when reported back is passed without question. It is time the attention of citizens was called to the aimless if not worse way in which the city legislation is conducted.

The Ohio State Journal publishes official statistics showing that there are now 14,631 saloons doing business in that state under the Scott law, which is a reduction of 2717, or 20 per cent., due to its action. The saloons which formerly paid nothing, now pay into the treasury over $2,000,000 a year.

The general land office has ordered that copies of the records of the land office at Olympia, which was recently destroyed by fire, be reproduced from the files at Washington. The work will cost $60,000.

OBLIGATIONS OF IRELAND TO GLADSTONE.

Michael Davitt in a letter to the Cincinnati Commercial exults in the fact that a much better state of feeling towards Ireland has lately been shown by the English people. But he gives all the credit for this to Mr. Parnell, and utterly ignores the work of Mr. Gladstone. The ingratitude shown to Gladstone by the Irish is a serious fault, which it is hard to explain, unless we accept the conclusion that a protracted experience of injustice has destroyed their sense of justice. Gladstone has done more for Ireland than any one man has before accomplished. One of his last acts has been to carry through the house of parliament a measure providing that tenants shall not pay for the improvements they themselves have made. The house of lords, however, has defeated this measure and declared that the improvements upon a farm become the property of the landlord after a few years, because the tenant's enjoyment of them is in itself a compensation for his labor. The landlords are now making their fight about this point, but Mr. Davitt thinks this is about the last stand they can take "before the whole system is compelled to surrender to the spirit of progress and justice." When this measure is adopted it will be possible for Irishmen to occupy a large amount of reclaimable land now awaiting labor. The immense benefit to be derived from this measure is shown by Dr. Ernest Hart, who was chosen to investigate this question by a number of Englishmen prominent in literature and politics. In the county of Donegal alone he found 14,000 people "whose land has been sown with seed potatoes given by charity, and who were maintaining life on doles of a penny worth of Indian meal a day, given by bishops and priests with alms largely derived from American liberality." He saw "thousands of acres of grass land reverting to a state of nature for want of cultivation—land which once supported thousands of families. And on the very outskirts of these lands, on bog and moor, and the poorest soil heavily encumbered with masses of stone, there were thousands of people reduced to starvation and kept alive by eleemosynary aid." In one parish of 9626 persons, whose annual valuation is only $20,000, there are in it 20,000 acres of waste land, half of which is fairly available for settlement. Five townlands which include 4895 acres and support 313 families are valued at only $2880, including the houses which the tenants have themselves built. In this parish the tenants have reclaimed from the moor every acre they occupy, have put up every fence, made every drain and built their own huts. These lands, hardly worth sixpence an acre at the start, are in from five to seven years made capable of supporting a family content with a bare subsistence. But when this has been brought about, Dr. Hart says, it has been an ordinary practice for the landlord to coolly appraise the value which the peasant's labor has given to the holding and appropriate it to himself. Spite of contracts the annual rents are forced up to from $10 to $50, according to the tenant's industry. The land, therefore, is allowed to run to waste, and poverty is the common lot of the people. The main cause of their discontent arises from such circumstances as these, which Mr. Gladstone is aiming to remove. In the face of strong opposition, which has been strengthened by the violence of Irishmen, he has steadily pursued a course of justice and wisdom, and has succeeded in impressing English opinion with the importance of making it possible for the Irish people to enjoy the means of a decent subsistence, without which no people can be contented or loyal.

Among other measures for the relief of Ireland which Gladstone has carried through parliament since spring, are the fisheries, the laborer's dwellings and the tramways bills. The first provides for the building of piers and harbors on the stormy west coast of Ireland; the second confers compulsory powers upon local boards of guardians, enabling them to build better houses for farm laborers and to provide half-acre garden plots to each dwelling; while the third has a far wider scope in that it recognizes the principle for which the land league contended, and provides for the building of short railway lines and empowers public companies to draw from the treasury for the transferal of families from poor to better sections of the country. The nation is said to have had a share in the adoption of these beneficent measures, but they are government measures, and while the Irish people may rightly rejoice, as Mr. Davitt does in the letter above referred to, they should not in their prejudice overlook the fact that they owe these measures to Mr. Gladstone.

Beerbohm's Corn Trade List is the first to tabulate in a reasonably trustworthy form the surplus and deficiencies in the wheat output of 1883, in imperial quarters:

	Deficit. qrs.	Surplus. qrs.
1. United States and Canada	....	11,500,000
2. United Kingdom	15,000,000	....
3. France	10,000,000	....
4. Belgium	2,000,000	....
5. Germany	2,500,000	....
6. Holland	750,000	....
7. Austria-Hungary	....	1,000,000
8. Russia and the Danube	....	7,000,000
9. Switzerland	1,750,000	....
10. Italy	2,000,000	....
11. Spain and Portugal	600,000	....
12. India	....	5,500,000
13. Australia and Chile	....	1,500,000
14. West Indies, China, etc	2,250,000	....
15. Sundries	....	750,000
Total	35,760,000	27,250,000

This shows an apparent deficit of 8,500,000 quarters, or 68,000,000 bushels, notwithstanding the fact that India is expected to send 44,000,000 bushels of wheat to Europe. Accordingly, it would be thought natural and legitimate if the price of wheat rose; as a matter of record, it has declined. This may be due to the influences of the stocks left over from 1882, to American corn, to German potatoes, to Russian rye, and to the thrift of the Latin nations, which know how to get along with less wheat, if necessary.

Yesterday at 1 o'clock the pioneers' train, bearing 450 men and women, pulled out of East Portland for St. Paul. It was a noteworthy event. Many of them have been residents of Oregon forty years. By them civilization was brought to these confines of the republic. Their migration to Oregon was the forerunner of all that has since been acted here. Courageous, hardy and true, they pushed their way across the plains in the face of dangers and toils which would daunt the men and women of to-day. Theirs was a greater achievement than the building of any railroad. It would be no violation of the truth of history to say that they were the true builders of the railroad, those men and women who represent Oregon in the excursion of the pioneers.

During the month ending August 31 the population of this country was added to by the arrival of 36,388 foreign immigrants. Of these Germany furnished the largest number, 13 868. England, Scotland and Wales sent us 7146. Canada's loss is our gain to the number of 4883 people. Norway, Sweden and Denmark reinforce their large population in the northwest with 3678 recruits. Ireland ships 3595. The Swiss contingent numbers 710. Austria, Hungary, Russia, Bohemia and Italy each sends more than 500. France spares us only 307. The rest come in small squads from everywhere. And yet August was not a particularly good month for emigrants. With our fifty millions it is no trick at all to assimilate a paltry forty thousand a month of incoming strangers. The almond-eyed sojourners no longer figure in immigration statistics.

AN INNOCENT ABROAD.

Although Dr. R. [illegible] Wilson, of this city, has been fifty-five years in the world, has traveled about a good deal, is well informed in regard to wicked ways, and withal an intelligent and highly honorable gentleman yet he was completely taken in by a dapper little fellow in New York, who presented himself as the son of Mr. C. C. Beekman, of Jacksonville, and a friend of Mr. Henry Failing, of this city. Dr. Wilson went unsuspectingly with the youth, was enticed into a "little game" conducted for the "benefit of a Boston church," and was fleeced, of course. "Little games" are maintained for this special purpose, and this is what the worthy doctor would have known had he read his DAILY OREGONIAN with proper understanding during the past thirty years. That Dr. Wilson could be induced by any means to engage in a "little game" will surprise his friends—it probably surprised the doctor himself when he took time to think about it. It must have been the seductive, high bred Boston air of the thing which made his fancy captive. An Oshkosh "little game" would in all likelihood have appealed to him in vain. But seriously, if so worldly wise a man as Dr. Wilson is unable to take care of himself and his money in the big, wicked metropolis, what is to become of the simple, unworldly band of pioneers who started east yesterday? They will be as a flock of lambs in a country beset with wolves. Every possible scheme of robbery will be tried upon them, and it will be surprising if some of them are not severely bitten. About New York and the various other eastern cities there are hundreds of scoundrels who make a business of fleecing the unwary, devoting to it a sagacity which if honorably applied would win name and fame. These fellows know in advance of the coming of the pioneers, and will be on the lookout.

THE ARCTIC FOLLY.

Expedition after expedition has been sent into the perilous Polar regions and with slight variations the results have shown a terrible similarity. Frozen bodies and bleaching bones show the termination of combat after combat with the stern and awful power of an Arctic winter. Protracted sufferings have, in most cases, been followed by death, and in few, if any, instances have discoveries been made of any importance to the world. The fact that there may be a few more uninhabited and uninhabitable islands upon the globe than was before known, is not one that justifies an almost certain sacrifice of human life. The little now that has been made known has rather tended to destroy the theories so long adhered to by navigators and other scientific men. The inland sea which explorers expected to find in Greenland, with vegetation along its shores, turns out to be like its surroundings, a great desert of ice, and the open Polar sea and northwest passage are only a little less impossible than Symme's Hole. But should all that scientific speculation has assumed be corroborated, in what practical respect would the world be the gainer? The price paid in the attempt to obtain this knowledge, that is little better than abstraction, could it be definitely arrived at, is too high already. Let the ghastly enterprise stop right now. Let the glory of discovery in that land of rayless midnight be left to others, if they are foolish enough to pursue it, and be it our glory to preserve our heroes and their heroism for something that will benefit mankind.

Next Tuesday elections will take place in Ohio and Iowa. In both states the liquor question is paramount. In Ohio the contest is for license, in Iowa for prohibition. Republicans in both states are for restriction and democrats in both states are against it.

Hoadly and Harmony are alliterative, but they somehow don't rhyme.—Pittsburg Dispatch (Ind).

BREAKFAST.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame.—Civil Service Gazette.

WHAT IS IT?

CANDLE FISH, or OOLACHAN is a species of fish similar to smelt. It has a rich, delicious flavor, and all who try it pronounce it superior to the sardine. It is smoked and sugar-cured and packed in hermetically sealed cans. Although a novelty, it has met with large sales. All who have not tasted Candle Fish should do so at once.

TWO RIBS BROKEN.—W. O. Darr, a teamster for George Ham, met with an accident Monday afternoon that nearly resulted fatally. While going up the incline from the second bridge on First street, in South Portland, with a span of horses drawing a load of sand, the team balked and then began backing. When they reached the bridge one wheel went over the side and the whole outfit was precipitated to the bottom of the gulch. Darr saw the catastrophe coming, and tried to escape by jumping, but only succeeded in going a little quicker than the team. All fell and rolled about forty feet down the declivity, both the horses and the wagon rolling over the unfortunate Darr. Several men who saw the accident hastened to his assistance. Darr was picked up and brought into town to his father's residence on Fourth street. He suffered two broken ribs, one upon each side, besides a great gash in the left thigh, a severe wrenching of the back and a dozen or two less serious cuts and bruises all over his body. Dr. Nichols dressed the wounds, and after a thorough examination felt safe in saying that the injured man would eventually recover, although he would be laid up two or three months. Strange to say, the horses were brought up out of the gulch unhurt, except for a few slight scratches and bruises. The wagon is almost a total wreck.

RUNAWAY ACCIDENTS.—A frightened horse attached to a buggy driven by A. Salmon, ran away on Ninth and Alder streets Monday afternoon, and after being stopped kicked madly, overturning the cart, kicking Mr. Salmon in the forehead and badly bruising his left arm. Isador Mendelsohn, a youth who was riding with Mr. Salmon, received some severe scalp wounds. Another runaway occurred yesterday on First street, about fifteen minutes past twelve. The wheel slipped off an express wagon belonging to Henry Smith, causing the horse to run away. Smith and another man who was in the wagon were thrown out, but they were not injured. The horse was stopped on First and Oak.

PROSPECTIVE LAWYERS.—The following law students will apply to the supreme court for admission to the bar on Wednesday afternoon: Sam Stott, Carr Harrison, William Starr, William Foley, R. R. Gilner, C. R. Holcomb, J. R. Baldwin, R. W. Emmons, George A. Sprunde, W. G. Mundy and Ed. Jeredy, of Portland; B. N. Hayden and M. A. Fuller, of Salem; A. J. Lockhart, Empire City, Judge L. Laughary and Frank W. Fenton, Lafayette; Colonel John Lane, Coos bay; Fred A. Coggswell, Lakeview; George A. Brock, Corvallis; L. B. Webster and W. T. Nichols, Jackson county, and A. W. Luelling of Hillsboro.

FOUND A HOME.—The infant left by some heartless mother upon the steps of Thomas Hammond's residence last Sunday evening was tenderly cared for by Mrs. Hammond, who bathed, dressed and fed it. The poor little thing was benumbed with cold from exposure when found. The statement that it would be given to some respectable family who wished to adopt it caused several persons to call. It was finally given in charge of a childless couple by the name of Daley, who live in the northern part of the city, where it will have a comfortable home.

SIX MONTHS EACH.—In the police court yesterday T. J. Keen and F. Harris, each aged 21 years, charged with stealing a knife and pistol from a Third street dwelling, withdrew their plea of not guilty and plead guilty of petty larceny, "because," as one of them told the court, "we don't want to wait three or four months for the grand jury, and we plead guilty of petty larceny." They were sentenced to six months in the county jail, and sat down with great astonishment written plainly upon both their faces.

FRIENDLY FIGHTERS.—Michael Keegan and Ed. Mitchell, two old partners, having been drinking each other's health in many a bumper of whisky, were found by policeman Belcher shortly after 1 o'clock yesterday morning trying their level best by the dim light of a gas jet to black each other's eyes. They were in downright earnest in desiring to fight, when taken to jail, Mitchell borrowed $10 from Keegan to put up for bail. Both forfeited their cash by not appearing for trial in the afternoon.

MADE ONE POINT.—The messenger boys in the employ of the Western Union Telegraph Company, to the number of eight, on Saturday night sent a memorial up stairs to the superintendent, stating that they wanted an advance of one-half cent per message, and a "decent bench to sit on." Their demands were duly considered and the bench allowed but the advance refused. The boys then resumed their work, feeling that their strike was more successful than was that of the operators.

RESTAURANTS CLOSED.—The Portland restaurant, corner of Ash and Second streets, and the Market restaurant, in New Market, were closed yesterday. The high prices of meat, butter, eggs, etc., made the business unprofitable. If there is not a reduction on the prices of provisions soon, lots of people will have to shut up their kitchens. It costs more to "live" now than it does for anything else and there is no profit in it for many.

CHURCH FURNITURE.—Three new Gothic chairs, handsomely upholstered in maroon plush, have been added to the furniture of the First Congregational church. They are in the pulpit, one chair larger than the others in the center for the pastor, and the remaining two for visiting clergymen. A new desk is expected soon, and the grand pipe organ will be in place in about two months.

CALL FOR MESSAGES.—Telegraph dispatches for the following named persons now remain uncalled for at the office of the Western Union company in this city: Miss Alice Clawson, Mrs. N. O. Mitchell, Mrs. D. W. Willard, M. D. Wedinfeld, Job W. Ross, Tom McCarthy, M. B. Davis, B. A. H. Wood, J. H. Buchanan, Stavely Hill, A. G. Corbett, Alex. Campbell, Feldmand & Co., Ralph Wood.

DIED IN THE HOSPITAL.—Philip Phillips, a pantryman on the steamer Mountain Queen, who had been ailing for some time of a complication of diseases, was taken to St. Vincent's hospital a few evenings since and died there the next morning. Phillips was an Englishman by birth and a man of fine education. He was a telegraph operator and at one time held a good position at Hong Kong.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—H. C. Johnson, formerly employed in the Willamette Iron works but of late brakeman on the O. & C. R. R., fell from an extra freight train on Monday morning as it was coming down the grade south of Aurora, and was run over by the cars and killed. His remains were brought down to East Portland yesterday for interment.

SEVERELY BRUISED.—A lumber pile fell upon Henry Wren Monday evening, while he was at work near the new railroad bridge, and it was at first thought his right leg was broken. He was removed to his residence, 31 Washington street, where a surgeon attended him and discovered that the injury was only a severe bruise.

TWO-CENT POSTAGE.

Effect of the New Tariff upon the Office in this City—Arrival of a Large Supply of New Stamps.

The new postal law reducing the tariff upon sealed letters, addressed to any point in the United States, from three cents to two cents for every half ounce or fraction thereof, went into effect on the first of the present month and is now well in operation. Like all great and radical changes it cannot take place quite all at once, and some opposition is felt not because of itself, but through either ignorance or forgetfulness. It is safe to say that in a great majority of the small postoffices throughout the country, the change was scarcely felt the first day, and it was only an occasional two-cent letter that straggled in among the old style three-cent ones. But while a cent by itself amounts to but very little, no one likes to donate it to the government, and it will not take long for everyone to find out about the new tariff. As for the change itself, everything has been done by the government to make it an immediate and perfect one.

Some idea may be gathered of the immensity of the postal service of the United States from the fact that the department ordered previous to the first of October, 38,000,000 two-cent stamps, 7,000,000 two-cent stamped envelopes and 6,000,000 postal cards, a total value of nearly a million dollars, and all for immediate distribution to fill actual orders.

Postmaster Steele of this city has ordered 300,000 two-cent stamps, and 100,000 two-cent stamped envelopes, together with postal cards and other denominations of stamps, amounting in all to $20,000 worth, which quantity he expects to last this office only during the ensuing quarter.

Regarding the trouble which some people seem to have in understanding matters apparently most simple, Postmaster Steele and his clerks say that a very great many letters were received during the month of September bearing only two-cent stamps. When the writers of these letters were known they were returned immediately. Otherwise the persons to whom they were addressed were notified by card that each and every epistle was held for postage. Quite a number of this kind that remained over at the close of the month have since been forwarded as permitted by the new law.

None of the two-cent stamps authorized by the recent law of congress have been sold at the postoffice in this city since October; for the reason that no stamps of the new denomination had until yesterday been received. A large supply of the new two-cent stamps was sent from Washington on the 21st of September, and only arrived last night by the steamer State of California. The supply being quite large, there will be no danger of it becoming exhausted for some time to come.

During the past two days, there was a big rush on the Portland postoffice for the old styled two cent postage stamps. There was also considerable demand for three cent stamps. Mr. Chittenden informed an OREGONIAN representative last evening that the entire supply of two and three cent stamps of the old kind is all exhausted. So great was the run for the past two days that it has cleaned out the office. However, a large supply some 15,000—of three cent envelopes remain on hand at the office here. Just what disposition will be made of them is not known at present, the officials not having received any instructions from the department. Up to last night a good many letters stamped with three cents were dropped in the boxes and postoffice. To-day the postoffice will be amply supplied with the new two cent stamps and no further public inconvenience need be experienced.

AMUSEMENTS.

MOSS' MINSTRELS.—This mirth provoking troupe appears at the New Market theater to-night in a new and attractive programme, which has received high encomiums from the eastern press. An old favorite in Portland, Miss Bessie Louise King, will appear in conjunction with the company in an entirely new repertoire of songs. The minstrels would have appeared before this at the New Market theater were it not for other companies being previously engaged. A good show and a full house are confidently expected.

PERSONAL.

Fred H. Crane, who has been in Seattle for some months, has returned to Portland, and is willing to stay.

J. M. Buckley, the assistant general manager of the Northern Pacific railroad, has arranged for his headquarters in the office of the Tacoma Land company, at Tacoma, W. T. It is Mr. Buckley's intention to move his family to Tacoma.

LANDING CHANGED.—Hereafter the steamer Lurline will leave Alder street wharf for Vancouver instead of Morrison street. The traveling public will please be governed accordingly.

Remember and pay your gas bill to-day.

CHAPMAN CONDEMNED.

Interviews with the Members of the City Council.

WHAT THEY THINK OF PORTLAND'S MAYOR.

His Dishonor also Talks Freely to a Reporter, and Again Acknowledges his Infamy—"But It Was not Wrong."

Inasmuch as the city council meets in regular session this evening, and the people are looking with all their eyes toward this body of their representatives to know what they propose to do or say concerning the city's greatest infamy—the Chapman-Besser corruption contract—the separate opinion of each member will be read this morning with more than ordinary interest. OREGONIAN reporters visited the councilmen yesterday, either at their places of business or private residence, and a few moments' hearing being requested in each case, they were asked what was their opinion of the mayor's conduct, and what they individually proposed to do about it in their official relations to the city. The following interviews are authentic in every particular:

COUNCILMAN ADAMS.

Hon. W. H. Adams, president of the council, was found in his office, very busy with legal affairs. He courteously laid aside his books and submitted to the reporter's questioning:

"What will be done at the council to-morrow night regarding the Chapman matter?

"That I can't say," was the reply, "I am not going to be here."

"How is that?"

"Business engagements take me to Salem in the morning, and I will not be able to return for several days."

"What do you think the council can do?"

"Well, I don't think the council can force the mayor to resign under the charter. The matter ought to be brought before the grand jury if there is any truth in it at all. The council might pass resolutions expressing their sentiment. That is as far as they can go. They are given the power to impeach or expel their own members, but not the mayor. I think that is all their power, although I have not thoroughly investigated the case."

"Individually, what do you think of the whole business?"

"It is a very bad matter, and I am sorry that it should have occurred. It reflects very much on the city and is injurious to it in every way."

"Should it not be investigated?"

"Certainly. The council itself ought to have an investigation of the whole thing. Enough has come to light to make such action necessary. Some of the members of the council might be implicated, as well as the mayor, and they need to clear their own skirts of the transaction. So far as the mayor is concerned, there don't seem to be any need of an investigation. He pleads guilty."

"Has he said anything to you about it?"

"No; I have had no talk with him, and as for what he says only know what I have read in the papers. But his statement looks very thin in the eyes of the public. I am disgusted. I would never have thought that of Chapman. I must say I have been awfully deceived in him. No good man could have countenanced such a thing. His defense is not satisfactory at all."

"It has been suggested that as president of the council, you are the proper person to take steps toward an investigation?"

"I don't think such action devolves on me any more than it does on any other one member of the council. I have been spoken to and solicited to call a special meeting of the council, but I have no power to do such a thing except in the absence of the mayor."

"So you cannot be present to-morrow night?"

"No; I would like to very much, and it would please me if they would adjourn for a week, when I might be here."

"Will it not be unpleasant to sit in the council chamber hereafter while a mayor is presiding who is self-convicted of political corruption?"

"Well, the city's business must be attended to. All we can do is to ask him to resign and if he don't do it we cannot afford to bite off our own noses for the sake of spiting our faces. We cannot afford to clog the wheels of the city government, and at this time of the year there is a large amount of business to be transacted."

COUNCILMAN SEARS.

Alfred F. Sears, Jr., councilman from the Third ward, said he did not object to being interviewed, but was not quite prepared to make any statements.

"What do you think the council will do?"

"There is no line of action mapped out that I know of. Without mentioning any names I may say that there is a feeling among the members to dodge the matter."

"Personally, have you anything to say to the council in relation to the matter?"

"I have as yet reached no determination in the matter. I have always had a friendly feeling toward the mayor, and whatever I do it will not be a personal assault upon him. There is no question as to the wickedness of the whole affair. I have no hesitancy about expressing my conviction, but wish to speak advisedly. I cannot say what will be done in the council, although it has been suggested that the mayor be asked to resign.

"What are your convictions?"

"No one can commend such a contract as the mayor is said to have made, and what is more, although he has filed a general demurrer, he does not deny the charges. I have not finally determined what course I may think ought to be pursued by the council. It is a very serious matter. No doubt some action will be taken. I should prefer that there be a caucus of the members before the regular meeting, but do not know that such can be called. I have talked with several other members, but nearly every one expresses a different view. It is the duty of each councilman to put himself upon record in this matter. It is my belief, without any thorough examination of the law upon the matter, that if the charges as contained in the published articles in THE OREGONIAN can be proven, the mayor can be removed; but just the line of action to be pursued, I have not determined upon.

COUNCILMAN HONEYMAN.

W. B. Honeyman was found at the foundry of Honeyman & Co. (N. B.—There is no pun intended in the above.) He did not refuse to be interviewed, but replied to every question, "couldn't say."

He finally intimated that there was "music in the air," so to speak, and that the public would have to wait only twenty-four hours, until after the council meeting, when they would know all about it.

COUNCILMAN SCOGGINS.

In reply to the reporter's question, Councilman Scoggins said: "I have not heard that any one will make a movement toward investigating the matter."

"Do you think it ought to be investigated?" asked the reporter.

"It is a bad business," he replied. "I can't see how any man of common sense could have allowed himself to be got into such a business. There are no arrangements that I know of for an investigation."

COUNCILMAN SMITH.

While engaged in seeing off the pioneer excursion Councilman Smith was interviewed by an OREGONIAN reporter, who asked him if he knew of any action being taken in regard to an investigation of the charges against the mayor. He said: "I have not heard of any action being taken in the matter. I understand that Mr. Adams, president of the council, is the proper person to move in the matter. It appears as if everybody is afraid to take any steps toward an investigation. I don't know why they don't pitch in."

COUNCILMAN GORDES.

On being asked what he knew about an investigation of the mayor's conduct, Councilman Gordes said: "It is none of my funeral. I have enough to do to attend to my business. I don't know anything about any investigation. Let the republican party attend to this matter. It is all politics. I have no interest in republican funerals."

"But do you not think there ought to be an investigation?" asked the reporter.

"There are lots of things which need investigating," replied the cautious councilman, and he named a number of late city officials and the dredger. "In any investigation started, I want to do what is fair and right, as I have always done." He then declined to say anything more on the subject.

COUNCILMAN CHITTENDEN

Knew of no steps being taken toward an investigation, but said if any one would prefer charges the council would investigate them.

COUNCILMAN ANDRUS.

On being asked by an OREGONIAN reporter if he knew whether it was the intention of the council to investigate the charges against Mayor Chapman, said:

"I have not heard of any such intention. If they want to investigate the old Doc, why don't they take the matter into the courts? Let it be kept away from the council and not be mixed up with politics. The council has a great deal more work to do now than it gets paid for. I am opposed to it."

COUNCILMAN HANEY.

This gentleman, from the first ward, could not be found, consequently his own words upon the subject of the mayor's infamy cannot be given. His opinion upon the matter will, however, undoubtedly be the same as that of his coadjutor, Councilman Gordes. The charming similarity in the minds of these two councilmen, when important questions are at issue, has frequently been noticed.

MAYOR CHAPMAN.

His dishonor, Dr. J. A. Chapman, by the grace of L. Besser, mayor of the city of Portland, was also approached by an OREGONIAN reporter concerning the opinions expressed above. In response to a gentle tap upon the door a voice said "Come in." The room was cold and cheerless, and the mayor sat in his easy chair with his high hat pulled down over his lofty brow and his face hidden by the paper he was reading.

"Have you any idea what the council will do at its meeting to-morrow night?" asked the reporter hesitatingly, somewhat diffident as to how he might be received.

His dishonor looked up as if surprised and it might have been inferred that such a subject was entirely foreign to his mind.

"The regular amount of routine business, I guess," was the reply after a moment's silence.

"But I mean in reference to the charges against you," mildly suggested the reporter.

"Charges! what charges? There ain't any charges against me!" and his dishonor glowered fiercely upon the inoffensive newspaper man.

"You must know to what I refer. Several of the councilmen have spoken of the infamous contract business and say they propose to investigate your connection with it," said the reporter, returning to the attack.

"Investigate me! I'd like to know how. By G—d, sir, what can they do! I haven't done anything since I was mayor, and they've got no business with what I did before then. By G—d, they'd better hunt up and see if I didn't get into some scrape when I was a boy! It wouldn't be any of their business if I had stolen a horse before I was elected mayor."

Here the reporter ventured to take out his notebook and pencil, for fear that he might forget some of the interesting conversation.

"Don't go to taking down any notes of what I say," continued the mayor. "I don't want anything to do with you reporters. There's been enough said about me already. I'd like to know what all this fuss is about. And then to have those two preachers get up in their pulpits last Sunday and kick up a stink about something that didn't concern them at all. I want it distinctly understood that I have the full consciousness of having done nothing in my official career that would be derogatory to the position of mayor or president of the United States. I did make a contract with a man who hung around and wanted to work for me before election, and I kept that contract faithfully. And then to think that the infamous scoundrel should go and give himself away for the sake of trying to drag my character down! Ugh!" and the speaker looked as if he wished he knew how to get even with the aforesaid "infamous scoundrel."

"But Besser had no character to lose," put in the reporter, sympathizingly.

"Oh, well, Besser wasn't so very much to blame, after all," resumed the "me too" of President Arthur. "He tells me that that contract was stolen, deliberately stolen, out of his house, and that he has a good mind to prosecute the man that did it as a common thief. And if I was him I would do it, too."

"Have any members of the council said anything to you about this business?"

"No, sir; I haven't seen any of them, nor do I want to. They can't do anything with me. If I had done anything criminal, stolen a horse or committed a forgery, it would be different."

The above style of conversation might have been prolonged indefinitely, for the mayor seemed disposed to talk freely; but the reporter having heard enough of the kind, made his excuse and hastily withdrew.

CANNED CORN COMING.

Maine Sends Greeting to Oregon in the Shape of Ten Carloads—The Train Arrives Here This Morning.

The train of canned corn which left Portland, Maine, September 15, will arrive here this morning. This train will be received with great interest, as it is the first train from the Atlantic side to reach this point, besides being laden with a commodity that Maine furnishes largely of and what Oregon does little in growing and less in canning. This train has been a subject of great interest at important points along the road and has been telegraphed when passing these points. With the completion of the Northern Pacific, Maine sent this train to Oregon and Oregon sent Maine some of its world-famed salmon. The exchange of the products of these remote states is significant and at once presents its own conclusions. At the time the train left the Atlantic seaboard A. L. Stokes, assistant superintendent of traffic N. P. R. R., received the following telegram:

"The Atlantic salutes the Pacific, Portland salutes Portland, and we are ready to be saluted."

When our salmon reaches them they will certainly feel having the salutation repeated. At several points along the road the train was photographed and will also probably be photographed at Albina to-day. The arrival of the train will attract great interest to-day.

The following from the Morning News, of Portland, Maine, will prove good reading at the time the train arrives here:

Three Thousand Miles of Rail.

THE OREGON SHIPMENT LEAVES TO-NIGHT.

Several gentlemen interested in the shipment of goods to Oregon by John Dennis & Sons, met at the Eastern railroad station yesterday afternoon. The representatives of the western roads arrived in the city at noon. They were Wm. Early, New England agent of the Blue Line; G. H. Abair, traveling agent Blue Line; C. H. Wise, New England agent Chicago and Northwestern railroad.

Besides the above named gentlemen, there were present: F. D. Rogers, agent of the Eastern railroad; W. S. Eaton general freight agent E. C. railroad; John Dennis, Esq., and Henry Dennis, Esq. shippers of the goods; J. A. Buckerton, H. A. Clay, C. C. Nelson, M. F. King and representatives of the press.

The party proceeded to the freight yard and found ten cars containing the shipments. Most of them were from the rolling stock of the Blue Line. On each side of the cars, and about midway, were large placards, red in color and lettered with heavy black ink, as follows:

Special Express Train from Portland, Maine,
to Portland, Oregon, loaded with
Maine Canned Corn,
John & Henry Dennis, Portland, Me.
Oliphant & Co., Portland, Ogn.
Eastern Railroad,
Blue Line,
via
Chicago and Northwestern
and Northern Pacific Railways.

The party entered the saloon car attached to the train and were drawn rapidly over the bridge to Turner's island. The photographic apparatus was there in readiness, and after grouping the company on one side of the engine, Mr. King proceeded to work his plates. The threatening weather hastened matters somewhat and discommoded a little, though two or three good negatives were obtained. At about 4 o'clock the party came back to the city.

The time which is expected to be made by the train is certainly startling. Mr. E. H. Mitchell, general agent of the Blue Line, who has had charge of the shipment, has arranged for quick time to Chicago, and expects if the train starts to-night to have it reach Chicago in four days. From Chicago to St. Paul it will take another day and then the assistant superintendent of the Northern Pacific railroad will receive it and he has promised to make quick time. To St. Paul is about half the journey, and as good time beyond it as will be made this side of it, can hardly be expected. Yet it would not be surprising if twelve days hence should see the cars landed in Portland, Oregon, and as has been intimated before, President Villard of the Northern Pacific will make their arrival the occasion of something more than a passing notice.

Mr. Dennis had an offer to take the cars through to Oregon by the Southern Pacific, and agents from many other roads interviewed him, but he selected this route as the best.

It is expected there will be much interest felt in the train along the route, especially after the cars reach the Northern Pacific. If nothing happens to delay the arrangements, the train will start to-night on its long journey.

After all that Chapman has said he carefully neglects to make any remarks concerning the money he was to receive in consideration of his faithful performance of contract.

When J. A. Chapman speaks of L. Besser as an infamous scoundrel, as he does in the interview which is published this morning, it is only another case of "pot calling the kettle black."

AN EASY PREY TO BUNKO.

DR. WILSON OF OREGON MEETS THE BANK PRESIDENT'S SON.

He Puts Up $2160 in a Church Lottery on a Green Table, and Recovers $2000 at Drexel, Morgan & Co.'s Next Morning.

N. Y. Sun, Sept. 29.

Dr. Robert B. Wilson of Portland, Oregon who is stopping at the Westminster hotel, fell into the hands of bunko men on Friday, and when they let him go he left with them $2160, of which $60 was cash. Yesterday he caused the arrest of two of them and got back $2000.

Dr. Wilson is 53 years old and has traveled before. He says he reads the newspapers. He is tall, full bearded, and wears glasses. To the ordinary eye he does not look at all like a man whom confidence men would be apt to tackle.

At 4 o'clock on Friday afternoon Dr. Wilson took a walk up Sixth avenue. At Twenty-fourth street a handsomely dressed young man grabbed his hand and shook it warmly.

"Why, Doctor (shake). I'm awfully glad to see you again (shake). It does me good to catch sight of a familiar face" (jig-saw shake).

"Yes," gasped the doctor, regaining control of his arm. "I don't exactly recall you."

"That's too bad," said the young man, and his cheerful smile died away. "Why, I'm the son of C. O. Beekman, president of the bank at Jacksonville, Oregon. I've just come back from Europe with mother and sister. Haven't a friend in New York; that's why I'm so glad to see you. Why, you know Henry Failing of Portland, don't you?"

Mr. Beekman's name can be found under "Oregon" in the "Bankers' Almanac" for 1883. So can Mr. Failing's. Dr. Wilson did not reflect on this. He did know Mr. Failing and Mr. Beekman, and he said so. Besides, the young man was apparently not a needy person. He wore a plum colored suit of fashionable cut, a neat, but expensive watch chain stretched across his waistcoat, and a handsome solitaire diamond sparkled in his scarf. "Perhaps I do know this young man," Dr. Wilson said to himself, and, to make up for his former lack of cordiality, he began to shake hands again. They talked and walked awhile. Then the young man said:

"By the way. I've got something real interesting to tell you. You've heard about the new scheme they have got up in Boston to put up the big church?"

Dr. Wilson had not heard and said so.

"Well," continued the young man, "it's a sort of a lottery, you know. Out of pure charity I took a chance, and, if I'm not mistaken, I've won some money. If you've a moment to spare we'll go and get it?"

Dr. Wilson says that the young man led him to 49 East Twenty-Third street. There was a sign on the door which Dr. Wilson thinks was a physician's sign. They went into what seemed to be the front parlor which was handsomely carpeted and furnished. Several men were gathered around a green, baize-covered table on which were many figures and designs in gold, blue and red. It did look remarkably like a benevolent society's lay-out.

"One of the men who was sitting behind the table," the doctor said yesterday, "shuffled up a lot of blue cards when he saw us enter and handed one to my companion. Then he said that the young man had won and handed him a package of money which, he said, contained $250. Then the young man induced me to take a chance."

Dr. Wilson took several other chances, and soon had parted with $60 in cash, a $100 check and an endorsed draft for $2000 on Drexel, Morgan & Co. Then he went and consulted Clark Bell, his lawyer. Mr. Bell said that he would try and save the draft, although he thought it would be a difficult thing to do, because the bankers would be bound to pay it if it was presented. He sent an advertisement to a morning paper that night offering $100 reward for the return of the draft. Before the banking house was open yesterday morning Mr. Bell and Dr. Wilson ascended the steps which overlook Broad and Wall streets.

"We are ahead of the bunko men," remarked Mr. Bell, "and may save the draft."

A few minutes later the doors were opened, and the story was told to Mr. Morgan. He said that all that could be done would be to delay anyone who should present the draft. Mr. Bell remained in the bank, and Dr. Wilson went away for a time. In his absence a tall and broad-shouldered man came in, and, stepping to the cashier's desk, presented the draft and called for the $2000. He was made to wait and a messenger was sent for a policeman.

Just then a hubbub arose in Wall street, near by. A dapper little man, looking like a prosperous young broker, went flying along, pursued by a tall man in eye glasses. The tall man kept shouting "Stop thief." He gained upon the little man, and cornered him in a doorway. Then a policeman came along and took the little man in charge.

The prisoner was the spurious son of the Jacksonville bank president, and his pursuer was Dr. Wilson. The doctor had spied him lurking at the corner. The man who had presented the draft was also arrested. He said he was Edward Williamson, a clerk, 40 years old, and gave his residence at St. Nicholas avenue and 162d street. Dr. Wilson recognized him as the man who had dealt the cards in the house in East Twenty third street. The other prisoner said he was Robert Price, a clerk, 30 years old, of Hoboken. The policeman who had Price in charge trembled with excitement after he had taken Price into Drexel, Morgan & Co.'s office. Price, who was as cool as ice, noticed it, and, turning to the policeman, said:

"What's the matter with you? There is no occasion for you to tremble."

The prisoners were marched to the New street station, and afterward to the Tombs police court. Peter Mitchell was their counsel, and insisted that they had been unjustly arrested, and that no case could be made out against them. Dr. Wilson made an affidavit charging them with obtaining money from him by trick and device, and Justice Ford held them for examination on Wednesday, fixing their bail at $1500. They were locked up.

"The strangest part of the matter," remarked Mr. Bell, as he and the doctor were leaving the court room, "is that I have the draft in my pocket. The chances were a thousand to one that we would lose it."

Educated housekeepers, who have tried all the Baking Powders, say that Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder agrees better with the stomach than any other made. The best test of its purity is of its being used to-day, as it has been for years in a million homes, and the best test as to its nicety and strength is the test of the oven.

Portland's Water Supply.

Full Report and Analysis made by Dr. J. H. Bill, under Authority of the City Council, June, 1872.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

Inasmuch as garbled and partial extracts have recently been published from the report and analyses made by Dr. J. H. Bill of the water from various sources available for the use of the city, viz: the Willamette river, Stephens' Spring, Balch Creek and others, to ascertain their purity and general quality, we request you to publish in your columns, for the information of the citizens of Portland, the full report of Dr. Bill, which is embodied in the report as per printed copy herewith of Engineer Wm. E. Morris, "To the Joint Committee of Citizens and Councilmen, upon the different modes and sources "for supplying the city of Portland with water," presented to the Common Council and adopted Sept. 14, 1873.

THE PORTLAND WATER CO.

September 11, 1883.

Report of the examination of five samples of water, designed for the supply of the city of Portland from No. "2" to No. "6" inclusive, made in June 1872 by J. H. Bill, M. D., Surgeon U. S. A., Fort Vancouver, W. T.

[NOTE BY THE COMMITTEE.—Sample No. 1, examined by Dr. Bill in September, 1871, was from a large spring on the farm of C. Mills, in Washington County, but as it was decided by Mr. Morris to be wholly impracticable, as a source of supply, the analysis is omitted. All the samples submitted to Dr. Bill were designated by numbers only, and he was left to make the analysis without any knowledge of the sources of any of them. The [illegible] named in the publication of his report by the committee.]

Hardness .... 8 deg. Clark's scale
after boiling 7
Removable hardness 1
No action on lead pipe.

SAMPLE NO. 4—BALCH'S CREEK.

Moderate sediment. Very clear, odorless and tasteless.
One imperial gall. contains 7.44 grains solids.
Chief bases, lime and soda.
Chief acid, carbonic, with a little chlorine.
No magnesia, no iron, no noxious mineral.
No sulphates, phosphates nor nitrites.

Organic matter present in considerable quantity.

SAMPLE NO. 5—CARUTHERS' CREEK.

Heavy sediment. Water clear, tasteless and odorless.
One imperial gall. contains 6.5 grains solids.
Much lime (.88 grains per gall.) and little soda present.
Chief acid, chlorine.
No magnesia, iron nor noxious mineral present.
No sulphates, carbonates, phosphates nor nitrites.
Hardness .... 9 deg. Clark's scale
after boiling 7
Removable hardness 1
No action on lead pipe after forty-eight hours after one week, marked action.

SAMPLE NO. 6—WILLAMETTE RIVER.

Organic matter in large amount.
Small sediment. Clear, tasteless and odorless.
One imperial gall. contains 2.46 grains solids.
Amount of bases (lime, soda, etc.) inappreciable.
No sulphates, carbonates, phosphates nor nitrates.
Hardness .... 1 deg. Clark's scale.
after boiling ....
Removable hardness 1
No action on lead pipe.
Organic matter present in small amount.

GENERAL REMARKS.

Comparing results, it was found that the samples were contaminated in the following order with—

LIME		ORGANIC MATTER
Most	No. 5	Most	No. 6
2nd	No. 3	2nd	No. 4
3rd	No. 2	3rd	No. 5
4th	No. 4	4th	No. 2
Least	No. 6	Least	No. 3

Arranged according to total solids, we have—

No. 2	5.82 grs. per gal.
No. 5	6.55 grs. per gal.
No. 3	5.18 grs. per gal.
No. 4	7.44 grs. per gal.
No. 6	2.46 grs. per gal.

These are all very small amounts, and No. 6 remarkably so. It is about as pure as rain water.

Nos. 5, 2 and 3 are the ordinary chloride of calcium waters of this region. No. 4 is remarkable as being the only bi-carbonated water.

In point of softness it may be remarked that all are unusually soft waters. The water supplied to London, Eng., ranges from 15 deg. to 30 deg. Clarke's scale; that to New York from 5 deg. to 10 deg. The water of the Columbia marks about 13 deg. Clark's scale; that of Cold Water Spring Company, Vancouver, 4 deg.

No. 6 is the softest, No. 4 next, Nos. 2, 3 and 5 about equal.

None of these waters will incrust boilers save No. 4, and here to an inappreciable extent. None will act on lead, even after a week's standing, save No. 5.

In conclusion, I may remark, that any of the samples would furnish an excellently good water for supplying the City of Portland, whether introduced singly or mixed in reservoirs prior to introduction. No. 6 is the purest and perhaps the best. Nos. 3 and 2 come next, and recommend themselves on account of their small organic contamination. No. 4 comes next, and No. 5 last.

These waters are all admirably adapted for manufacturing purposes—Nos. 4 and 6 best. No. 5 next and Nos. 2 and 3 next. No. 4 would be particularly well adapted for brewing, and in general chemical work.

Of all the waters examined the question reduces itself to a choice between No. 6 and Nos. 2 and 3. There is hardly any choice between them, determinable by chemical examination. Whichever source will furnish most readily the most water ought to be selected.

TRADE AND COMMERCE.

TUESDAY, Oct. 2.

FREIGHTS—The iron ship Fiery Cross, 1300 tons, came in last night under prior charter to the Salem Flouring Mills Company. The iron bark Martha Fisher, 811 tons, arrived to-day under prior charter to C. Caesar & Co. Other vessels are near at hand, and will be in very soon. The River Nith, Western Belle and Wigtonshire have completed cargoes of wheat and those now loading are fast filling up. The Titan expects to be off for Hong Kong on the 15th inst., and the Colesma about the same time. Grain freights show no change, and it has not been definitely given out what the Cheesebrough and Reaper got, but the rate is a trifle less than 52s 6d, U K or continent.

WHEAT—A steady market for cargoes reported from London to-day, and in some instances quotations show slight improvement. Cold weather is at an finance. With us the same absence of spot business is reported, and the same steady buying in the interior is continued. Values show no change. Since August 1 we have received 113 244 ctls valley, and 433,579 ctls eastern against 386,033 ctls valley, and 363 804 ctls eastern last year in the same time. It will be seen that while the total receipts fall behind last year, the eastern section is sending us much more than the valley.

FLOUR.—Market shows no change, receipts in the past two months have been 26,978 bbls valley and 11,480 bbls eastern, against 29,179 bbls valley and 20 963 bbls eastern for last year. The falling off is entirely due to absence of any demand for export.

OATS.—Choice feed have sold at 67½ cents, which is considered the top price. A good demand for good to choice is had.

CHICKENS.—Better prices are reported as obtained to-day, but the market is uncertain. We quote $3@5 50.

AFTERNOON DISPATCHES.

Another Slugging Contest

NEW YORK Oct 1—Charles Mitchell and Wm Sheriff the heavy weight pugilists, both from England, will fight to-morrow evening for $2000 and the championship. It is understood only fifty men will be admitted on behalf of each. The principal leading sportsmen are anxious, waiting for a "tip." The attendance will be limited. It is said $50 have already been offered for tickets of admission. Mitchell is in fine form, his neck and features are very broad, his hands being large are hard, and his knuckles appear to be the size of eggs. "I have not been doing very hard work since I came here," said Mitchell. "The fact is I was in excellent condition when I landed in New York from San Francisco, where I trained very hard for a fight with Slade, but perhaps I was a little over anxious. His (Slade's) backers picked out New Orleans as the battle ground because they knew we would not fight there. Slade could have made $2000 and had all his expenses paid to fight in New Mexico but dared not fight me."

Coleman Bros Make an Assignment.

NEW YORK Oct 1 Coleman Bros, clothiers of New York and San Francisco, have made an assignment for the benefit of their creditors. The liabilities are $300 000. At the New York house it was said that a statement could not be made here in regard to the liabilities or assets, the main business being in San Francisco. The New York concern is devoted to manufacturing. Nothing is learned in regard to the causes of the failure, but it is said to have no connection with the recent failure in the clothing trade. The firm was established in this city and San Francisco in 1853. The assignment was made in the latter city. Attachments amounting to $13 000 were obtained to-day by creditors.

Meeting of Creditors Called

SPRINGFIELD Oct 1—P. L. Walsh, principal of the Glenwood company's creditors, has announced his inability to meet demands and has requested them to meet in Springfield on Wednesday to receive his statement and effect a settlement. The mills have been running with varying success for four years making fancy cassimeres and overcoatings. Bad luck in selling goods, general depression and the unsettled state of the wool markets are the reasons assigned for the failure. Liabilities are estimated at $65 000.

Sale of New Stamps

NEW YORK Oct 1—Up to close of business to-day there were sold at the postoffice 1,250 000 two cent stamps, 80 000 four-cent stamps and 44 000 two cent envelopes. The crowd was at no time such as to raise confusion. The two-cent denomination were called for mainly. An enormous sale in comparatively a short time was made. One man on each end of the postoffice was kept busy telling people there old stamps were better than before the change and that old two cent stamps were good for any point in the United States.

Gould and Sage

CHICAGO Oct 1—The election of directors of the Louisville Nashville and Great Southern road will be held in this city on Wednesday. President Baldwin arrived to-day. In response to an inquiry he said that Jay Gould and Russell Sage would go into a directory. He said there would be no change in the management of the road, but the large interests of Gould in the west, together with the L N A & C system would receive mutual benefit from the presence of Gould and Sage in the directory.

WILKESBARRE Pa., Oct 1—Thirteen members of the Polish Catholic congregation took possession of the doors of the church at Nanticoke on Sunday refusing admittance to anybody either priests or laymen. Father Grambeurse has been before the bishop with his accounts which has been questioned. The accounts were examined by a council and found correct. The president has exonerated him from all charges.

Rev. Father Wilds' EXPERIENCE.

The Rev Z. P. Wilds, well-known city missionary in New York, and brother of the late eminent Judge Wilds, of the Massachusetts Supreme Court, writes as follows:

"78 E 54th St, New York, May 16 1882

MESSRS J. C. AYER & Co., Gentlemen:

Last winter I was troubled with a most uncomfortable itching humor affecting more especially my limbs which itched so intolerably at night and burned so intensely, that I could scarcely bear any clothing over them. I was also a sufferer from a severe catarrh and catarrhal cough, my appetite was poor and my system a good deal run down. Knowing the value of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA by observation of many other cases and from personal use in former years, I began taking it for the above-named disorders. My appetite improved almost from the first dose. After a short time the fever and itching were allayed, and all signs of irritation of the skin disappeared. My catarrh and cough were also cured by the same means, and my general health greatly improved until it is now excellent. I feel a hundred per cent stronger, and I attribute these results to the use of the SARSAPARILLA which I recommend with all confidence as the best blood medicine ever devised. I took it in small doses three times a day, and used, in all less than two bottles. I place these facts at your service, hoping their publication may do good.

Yours respectfully, Z. P. WILDS.

The above instance is but one of the many constantly coming to our notice which prove the perfect adaptability of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA to the cure of all diseases arising from impure or impoverished blood and a weakened vitality.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

cleanses, enriches, and strengthens the blood, stimulates the action of the stomach and bowels and thereby enables the system to resist and overcome the attacks of all Scrofulous Diseases, Eruptions of the Skin, Rheumatism, Catarrh, General Debility and all disorders resulting from poor or corrupted blood and a low state of the system.

A YOUNG MAN'S CASE.

MR. S. S. HODGES JR. of No. 147 Park street, Lewiston, Me., relates the following personal narrative, May 11 1883: About fifteen months ago I had a severe attack of typhoid fever, was very lame and confined to my bed for eleven weeks and when the fever left me I was in a very debilitated condition. My back and loins seemed to have no strength and I had no vitality or appetite. I tried various kinds of medicine recommended by my friends but found they did not improve my condition. I was induced to try Hunt's Remedy which has been used with such great success here in Lewiston that it has a very enviable reputation of being a most reliable medicine. I purchased one bottle and on the date my improved health from the time I commenced using it and my progress continued very rapidly. I gained in strength and experienced a ... in my back, my appetite increased, and after using three (3) bottles my pains were all gone and my health entirely restored and I can most heartily recommend Hunt's Remedy to any who may need a remedy for debility, kidney or urinary troubles.

A GOOD MECHANIC.

MR. T. J. J. NASH, of No. 18 Charles street, Portland, Me., writes us these convincing facts, May 11 1883: "I have for several years been troubled with liver complaint and indigestion and have suffered at times terrible distress and have tried many different cures (so called) that have been recommended from time to time. I once saw notice in one of our papers the testimonial of a person that had used Hunt's Remedy and been cured of a disease similar to mine. I purchased a bottle of one of our drug stores in Portland and before I had used the first bottle found that I was improving in health and my appetite. I have used in all six bottles and I have no trouble from indigestion and distress or pain in back as formerly had, and since I have been cured my wife has used it for kidney trouble and it has cured her. We can both say that Hunt's Remedy is a blessing to any that are troubled with kidney or liver diseases or indigestion. We gladly recommend it to our friends or to any sufferers from liver or kidney diseases, and you can use this letter as you may choose for the best interests of suffering humanity."

Swift's Specific has been the means of bringing health and happiness to thousands who were pronounced incurable of Blood and Skin Diseases.

HEAR THE WITNESSES:

Saved from a Horrible Death.

Up to May last I had spent at least five hundred dollars for treatment by many of the best medical men without any benefit. I suffered excruciatingly and all my best friends advised me that the icy hand of death was fast approaching. I commenced taking S. S. S. like a drowning man at a straw. After taking two bottles I could feel a change for the better. The sores began to discharge freely and the Rheumatism to abate. When I had taken six bottles every sore had healed and my skin began to assume a natural appearance. I persisted until I had taken twelve bottles, and THERE IS NOT A SYMPTOM OF THE DISEASE REMAINING, and I feel as well as I ever did. I have gained twenty-one pounds in flesh and my friends wonder at my improved condition. I have recommended it to many and in every instance with complete success. I believe that S.S.S. has saved me from a horrible death. S. H. EMILEN, Quincy, Ill.

I am sure that Swift's Specific saved my life. I was terribly poisoned with malaria, and was given up to die. Swift's Specific relieved me promptly and entirely. I think it is the greatest remedy of the age.
